You May Be Next . . .

Have you ever tried to cross a campus street and suddenly receive the feeling that you are standing in the middle of a drag-strip?

That has been the case of many students who have developed the art of hot rod dodging. The development of this art, by all rights, should never be necessary.

Traffic problems at NWMSC and all over the nation are constantly becoming worse.

During the Homecoming weekend, a freshman and a graduate of last year were both taken by the highway hand-of-death. One Friday night; the other Saturday night.

Possibly both deaths could have been prevented by cautiousness. Maybe not! But the saving of a life is worth careful, cautious driving.

Although there have been no fatalities on the campus drives, don't discount the possibility! Death can creep onto the scene faster than you can snap your finger.

Drive carefully!
Obey the 25 m.p.m. speed zone.
Stop at school crossings.
Don't you be a campus hot rodder!!

The Stroller was busy as a bee during Homecoming week. She enjoyed the festivities greatly and felt that the students of NWMSC did the ole school proud!

My flopping red ears caught numerous complaints from abstainers concerning the happy staggerers at the game and the dance. There was a definite run on the corner drug for Bromos the following day! Tsk. Tsk. The Stroller knows . . .

The Stroller wandered into the Den dance recently and had himself a ball. Seems like fellas are bashful about asking coeds to jig. The Stroller's warped little mind wonders what is wrong with these cats? Anti-girl?

The Stroller also wonders about the dollar and sense limitations on the recent beauty floats. Who do you kiddies think you are kidding?

The editor has just received this letter from one of my admirers and has directed it to my attention for reply:

Letter . . .
Please, Mr. Stroller, whoever you may be, reverse field running is fine in football, but how did it get into your column? The reference, of course, concerns your feelings toward the recent and highly publicized walk-out in our local mess hall. (That term may stem from past military experience, but will many argue?)

We were quite pleased when first you mentioned the incident. Subtle and even confusing as those paragraphs may have been, you seemed to follow the nearly campus-wide trend of having few good words to say for the local beanery. (Maybe you eat there, too?)

And now, in a more recent edition, you have condemned the first truly constructive action toward possible relief.

Our kind Dean of Students was quite correct when he reported to the world via the press that complaints about the food were a normal activity in the fall season at NWMSC. He seemed to forget that:

(1) These complaints are not quite so normal at other schools of similar size in Missouri and (2) even though some of these complaints in past years have taken official channels, nothing has been done to boost the quality of the food to at least that of other schools.

"Childish" Mr. Stroller? We believe not. Our minor revolution did not take to the possible tray throwing, plate breaking turn. It was merely a quiet, spontaneous method of proving to the administration that the students—over 75% of the students—want better food.

—Bob Lafferty

Stroller's Reply . . .

O Bearded One, it is true that in an earlier edition I had a few kind words to offer concerning the union food served to students. But, I do know what I am talking about

President Commends Student Senate Probe

President Jones stated that he had carefully examined the report of the Student Senate Committee on feeding problems in the Union in an interview with a Missourian reporter Saturday, Oct. 29.

He said, "I wish to assure you that continued attention will be given to the items in the report. Your senators have proceeded in the proper manner in dealing with this problem. Administrative action is being taken to correct the ills that have been pointed out."

Miss Mable Cook Attends Meeting

Miss Mable Cook, chairman of the home economics department, was one of 54 state supervisors and state educators attending a home economics education meeting at the University of Missouri, Columbia, on October 18 and 19.

"Student Teaching Program" was the theme of the meeting. Guest leaders were Dr. Christian, Program Specialist in U. S. Dept. of Education and Miss Walsh, Chairman of Home Economics Education at University of Illinois.

Miss Cook was moderator of a panel discussing "Directions for Decisions."

Writers Club Organizes

The Writers' Club held an organizational meeting Monday, October 24, in the home of the sponsor, Miss Mattie Dykes. Tim Johnson was elected president and Jeanie Morris, secretary.

The group voted to meet the first and third Monday evenings of each month. Club activities include reading original compositions for informal criticism.

All persons interested in Writers' Club are invited to attend the next meeting, scheduled for November 7, and to bring either prose or poetry manuscripts. Rides will be provided for those who need transportation.

at least.

The grapevine has it that you do not eat at our campus beanery—as you choose to call it—for the students who eat at the cafeteria have noticed an improvement as of late in their eating habits. Haven't you? Tsk. Tsk.

Second, it seems as if your "past military experience" would have taught you that ORGANIZED EFFORT plus a SURPRISE ATTACK is indeed an effective maneuver of ANY army, whether it be collegiates or the U. S. Marines. Need I say more??

Third, being a previous journalism student, I should think that even you could detect a wee bit of sarcasm in the article to which you referred.

To enable you to open your baby blues, may I suggest a book which is very misleading if one cannot read between the lines a little — THE HIDDEN PERSUADERS. "Sounds" like the third degree, doesn't it? Well, believe it or not, it is about advertising!

I do appreciate the interest you have shown in a campus issue and was happy to answer your letter. Remember: "LOOK SHARP, FEEL SHARP, AND BE SHARP!"

Who is that back seat driver on the Phi Sigma Epsilon Jalopy entry??? Could it be Bill???

Need a Little Help?

If you are a college student, or a prospective college student and you are in need of financial assistance to begin or continue your college education, you may be able to borrow up to $1,000 a year through the Student Loan Program or the National Defense Student Loan Program.

According to Dr. Sterling Surrey, "NWMSC can now say to any student now in school or planning to attend this college, who shows reasonable scholastic ability and who is in need of financial help—we have the money to assist you."

The College Student Loan Program started here in 1949 and under its plan more than 2,400 loans have been given. Under the federal program started in February of 1959 over 300 loans have been made and the school is committed to make an additional 300 loans this school year.

The Student Loan Fund operates the College Loan Fund and together with the Federal government they operate under the National Defense Student Loan Program.

May Borrow $1,000

A student may borrow as much as $1,000 a year to aid him with college expenses. Repayment of the loan begins one year after the borrower ceases to be a full-time student to be completed within 10 years. Part of the loan will be canceled if the student becomes a public elementary or secondary school teacher.

Donations are very important to the college in order that the loans can be made. For every one dollar the school can raise, the Federal government will give us nine.

Many organizations and individuals have helped in the past year to further this necessary fund. The Kiwanis Club, here, and the Nodaway Valley Bank each donated $100.

The Tivoli theater has an annual loan fund benefit show that usually brings about $300.

A member of the faculty who asked for his name not to be mentioned, gave $150.

Many alumni have made donations.

Ugly Man Contest

The Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity through its Ugly Man contest last year was able to boost the fund $203 worth.

The M-Club made a gift of $50.

Dean Lundy, a recent graduate, who was aided by the fund when he was in school, donated $75. And our druggist friend, also an alumni, "Frosty" Froman, made his annual contribution—because of his gifts the college can get $700 of Federal funds.

Those students interested in finding out more about the loan programs are urged to drop in room 207A at the classroom building and discuss the possibility with Dr. Sterling Surrey, Chairman of the Student Loan Fund.

Student Senate Cracks Down— Parking Regulations Enforced

A new approach to the regulation of parking students' cars on campus is being taken through the joint action of students and administration.

During the past year the policy was to allow students to regulate themselves concerning the parking regulations. Due to poor co-operation, the situation is now being handled by a campus policeman with the aid of the APO. This organization will make periodic automobile checks to determine whether or not cars are registered.

New Approach

The Student Court is now setting precedents as to the types of appeals which will be accepted from students concerning the parking problems.

Notices have been posted on numerous bulletin boards indicating the names of those students who receive and ignore tickets and those students whose cars are not registered. All students had the opportunity to appear at the Student Court to appeal their case. Those who did not appear have been adjudged guilty and an increasing fine is in effect.

Students who have received

Kirksville Raps Bearcats 26-20

Northeast State of Kirksville spoiled NWMSC's homecoming for the third straight year when they edged by the Bearcats last Saturday, 26-20.

Employing its traditional late bursts, the Bulldogs scored two touchdowns within 60 seconds of the last three minutes of the game. A late score in 1959 settled the game in a 13-13 tie and in 1958 the 'cats were overcome 21-19.

At the end of a thrilling first half the clock showed NWMSC leading 13-12.

With 2:45 remaining in the ball game, a 26 yard pass by the Bulldogs put them over for a TD. The extra point attempt failed and the game tied up 20-20.

Kirksville then kicked off and the Bearcats completed two plays before the Bulldogs intercepted a pass and ran 15 yards for the TD. That tallied up a final score of 26-20.

For the Bearcats Ken Sanders scored two TD's and Stu Cline ran for one. Jack Lasley booted two extra points.

According to the college tradition, Kirksville retained the symbolic Hickory Stick that they have held since 1956.
